

U.S. Department of Defense Standards of Conduct Office

SEEKING EMPLOYMENT RESTRICTIONS (RULES WHEN YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A NEW JOB)

Purpose: This document summarizes the Government ethics rules that may impose certain restrictions on your activities while seeking outside or post-Government employment.

Application: For all Department of Defense (DoD) personnel.

Legal Notice: This information identifies statutes and regulations that may restrict or otherwise affect activities of DoD personnel who are seeking outside or post-Government employment. This information is a summary of the rules, OSD personnel should contact the Standards of Conduct Office (SOCO) at (703) 695-3422 or by e-mail at OSD.SOCO@MAIL.MIL to discuss their particular situation. DoD personnel served by other ethics offices should consult with their ethics officials.

Advice from ethics officials with respect to these matters is advisory only, and is provided in accordance with 5 C.F.R. § 2635.107 and 41 U.S.C. § 2104. Ethics officials are acting on behalf of the United States Government, and not as your personal representative. No attorney-client relationship is created.

I. RESTRICTIONS WHILE SEEKING AND NEGOTIATING EMPLOYMENT (BEFORE YOU LEAVE DOD)

- A. RULE: DoD personnel may not participate personally and substantially in a particular matter that, to his or her knowledge, will have a direct and predictable effect on the financial interests of a prospective employer with whom they are seeking employment. (18 U.S.C. § 208; 5 C.F.R. § 2635.604).
- B. STOCK ACT NOTICE. Public Financial Disclosure Report (OGE Form 278) filers are required to file a statement notifying their ethics counselor of any negotiation for or agreement for employment or compensation within three business days after commencement of the negotiation or agreement. A sample STOCK Act notice can be obtained from your ethics official.

C. DEFINITIONS:

- Seeking employment includes: (1) making an unsolicited communication to a prospective employer or the prospective employer’s agent or employee regarding potential future employment; (2) engaging in negotiations for employment; or (3) responding to an unsolicited communication from a prospective employer or the prospective employer’s agent or employee regarding possible employment (other than rejecting the possible employment). A response that defers discussion to a later date does not constitute rejection.
  - “Seeking employment” does not include requesting a job application.
  - An employee is no longer seeking employment when either party rejects the possibility of employment or two months have passed since the transmittal of an unsolicited resume or employment proposal and the employee has received no indication of interest from the potential employer.
- Negotiation for employment includes any discussion or communication with another person or such person’s agent with the mutual view of reaching an agreement regarding possible employment. It is not limited to just discussing specific terms and conditions of employment in a specific position.
- Particular matters include matters that involve deliberation, decision, or action that are focused on the interests of specific persons or a discrete and identifiable class of persons. A particular matter could include legislation or policy-making that is narrowly focused on the interests of a discrete and identifiable group of parties or organizations, e.g., DoD policy affecting only military aircraft manufacturers. Particular matters may also include a contract, claim, application, judicial or other proceedings, request for ruling or other determination, controversy, investigation, or charge.
- Participation means to take an action as an employee through decision, approval, disapproval, recommendation, the rendering of advice, investigation, or other such action, or purposeful inaction in order to affect the outcome of a matter. An employee can participate in particular matters that are pending other than in his own agency.
- Personal participation is direct participation. It also includes the direct and active supervision of the participation of subordinates in a matter.
- Substantial participation means that the employee’s involvement is of significance to the matter. Participation may be substantial even though it is not determinative of the outcome of the particular matter. A single act of approving or coordinating on a critical step, may be substantial. Substantial participation requires more than official responsibility, knowledge, perfunctory involvement, or involvement of an administrative or peripheral issue.

- Direct and predictable effect requires a close, causal link between any decision or action taken on the matter and any expected effect of the matter on the financial interest. An effect may be direct even though it does not occur immediately. A particular matter that has an effect on the financial interest only because of its effects on the general economy is not a direct effect. There must also be a real, not speculative, possibility that the matter will affect the financial interest, but the size of the gain or loss is not relevant. Note: The question is whether the matter will have an effect on the prospective employer's financial interest, not whether the employee's participation in that matter will have an effect.

II. Recusal Requirements

- A. Notification of Recusal: DoD personnel must recuse from participating in official matters that may affect the financial interests of a prospective employer with whom they are seeking, negotiating, or have an arrangement for employment. Recusal is simple – Do not do ANY work on the task!
- B. Written Recusal Required. DoD supplemental rules require that DoD personnel submit a written recusal to their supervisor when they are assigned work that affects the financial interests of a prospective employer (e.g., when an actual conflict arises) (5 C.F.R. § 3601.105(c); section 2-204c of DoD 5500.07-R, Joint Ethics Regulation (JER)). Personnel should submit the recusal whenever there is a reasonable likelihood that they may be asked to work on a particular matter affecting the financial interests of a prospective employer. A sample recusal can be obtained from your ethics official.
- Example 1: No written recusal required. If a company you are seeking employment with has no relationship or dealings with your current office, or there is no opportunity for you to participate in a “particular matter” that will “directly and predictably” affect the company’s financial interests.
  - Example 2: Written recusal required. If you are assigned or are working on a particular matter that will directly and predictably affect a prospective employer, you must recuse yourself in writing from any further work before you start to seek employment with that company. However, you must receive approval from your supervisor before recusing yourself from any official duties.
  - Example 3: No immediate written recusal required, but recusal may be prudent. If personnel or your subordinates in your office work on particular matters that will affect a prospective employer or there is a likelihood matters affecting a prospective employer may be assigned to you, it may be prudent to submit a written recusal. The recusal will serve as notice to your supervisor and other personnel that you may not participate in any such matters.

- C. Withdrawal of Recusal. A recusal may be withdrawn when: (1) the DoD official or the prospective employer have rejected the possibility of employment and all discussions have terminated; or (2) two months have passed after submission of an unsolicited resume and there has been no indication of interest from the prospective employer.
- D. Statutory Recusal Requirement. Section 1117 of the FY22 NDAA (Pub. L. No. 117-81) creates a statutory seeking employment recusal requirement that applies to DoD personnel in addition to the seeking employment recusal requirements for all Federal employees discussed above. Comparatively, the recusal standard in Section 1117 more narrowly prohibits DoD personnel from participating in a “particular matter involving specific parties” where a prospective employer is or represents a party to the matter. For purposes of applying Section 1117, use the definition of “seeking employment” referenced above.

III. Acquisition/Procurement Issues

- A. RULE: A DoD official who is participating personally and substantially in a procurement for a contract in excess of the simplified acquisition threshold (currently $250,000) and is contacted by a bidder regarding non-Federal employment or is seeking employment with a bidder shall:
- Report the contact, in writing, to his supervisor and ethics official; and
  - Reject the offer of non-Federal employment; or
  - Recuse from further personal and substantial participation in the procurement until authorization to resume participation is granted in accordance with the conflict of interest rules (18 U.S.C. § 208) on the grounds that:
    - The offeror is no longer a bidder; or
    - All discussions with the offeror regarding possible non-Federal employment have terminated without an agreement for employment. (41 U.S.C. § 2103).
- B. Recusal: Recusal is simple – Don’t do ANY work on the task! Further, the Federal Acquisition Regulations require an official who must recuse, to submit a written notice of such recusal to the contracting officer, source selection authority if other than the contracting officer, and immediate supervisor. The written notice must identify the procurement, describe the nature and specific dates of the official’s participation in the procurement, identify the offeror, and describe the offeror’s interest in the procurement.

An official must remain recused until such time as the agency, at its discretion, authorizes the official to resume participation in the procurement. In addition to the procurement integrity restrictions, the conflict of interest statute, 18 U.S.C. § 208, prohibits an official from taking part in any particular matter, including a procurement of any amount, if the official has an existing employment relationship with the concerned contractor or is negotiating for employment with that contractor, unless a waiver has been granted.

C. Definitions: See the preceding section for the definitions of personal and substantial participation, seeking employment, and negotiating employment.

D. Examples:

- Personal and substantial participation includes active and significant involvement in any of the following activities directly related to the procurement:
  - Drafting, reviewing, or approving the specification or statement of work;
  - Preparing or developing the solicitation;
  - Evaluating bids or proposals;
  - Selecting a source;
  - Negotiating price or terms and conditions of the contract; or
  - Reviewing and approving the contract award.
- For purpose of this Procurement Integrity requirement, the following activities are not considered personal and substantial participation:
  - Clerical functions supporting the conduct of a particular procurement; and
  - Reviews conducted solely to determine compliance with regulatory, administrative, or budgetary procedures.

III. MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS

- A. Representing to the Government: While in Government service, including on terminal, transition, or separation leave or associated TDY, you are prohibited from representing someone else, with or without compensation, and from accepting compensation for representational services provided by anyone, before any Federal agency or court regarding particular matters in which the United States is a party or has a direct and substantial interest. 18 U.S.C. §§ 203 and 205.
- B. Off-Duty Employment: While on terminal, transition, or separation leave or associated TDY, you are still in Government service, and must comply with your organization's requirements regarding off-duty employment, including obtaining approval to work for a DoD contractor if you file a financial disclosure report. 5 C.F.R. § 3601.107; section 2-206, JER.
- C. Holding a Civil Office in State or local Government: While on active duty (including terminal leave) military officers are prohibited by 10 U.S.C. § 973(b) from holding a "civil office" with a state or local government.
- D. Accepting a Federal Civilian Position: Military personnel on terminal, transition, or separation leave are authorized to accept a civilian position in the U.S. Government and receive the pay and allowances of that position as well as their military pay and allowances. 5 U.S.C. § 5534a.

- E. Interview Expenses: You may accept travel expenses (meals, lodging, transportation) from a prospective employer if they are customarily provided in connection with bona fide employment discussions. If the performance of your official duties could affect a prospective employer, you must first be disqualified from acting on those matters. If these expenses exceed $480, and you file a financial disclosure report (OGE 450 or OGE 278), you must include them on your report.

F. Questions? Individuals should contact their local ethics official for information pertaining to the individual's specific circumstances. For OSD personnel only - contact the Standards of Conduct Office (SOCO) at (703) 695-3422 or by e-mail at OSD.SOCO@MAIL.MIL.